

Special Issue: Saudi Vision 2030 - Habitats for Sustainable Development

Guest Editor: Dr. Yenny Rahmayati

Prince Sultan University, Saudi Arabia

Contents

Editorial Yenny Rahmayati	1
Saudi Vision 2030: A New Mind-Set of City Future: Moving from Strategic Planning to Sustainable Development Based Vision: The Case of AR Riyadh, KSA Amira Abdelrazik Elbortokaly and Noorhan Hanafi	3
Adaptive Reuse Strategy for Abandoned Historic Villages in Asir (Saudi Arabia): A Participatory Approach Anna Klingmann	10
Comparing the Sustainable Reuse of Historical Buildings Silvia Mazzetto	22
Improving the Quality of Life in Saudi Cities through Active Public Residential Spaces: The Case of Central Dammam City Sulaiman M. Almazroua, K.M. Maniruzzaman,	33
Branding Saudi Arabia's capital: How Riyadh uses urban place marketing, mega-events, and urban destinations as tools to brand the city in line with Vision 2030 Anna Klingmann	39
Saudi Vision for a Happy City: Analyzing architecture students' perspective for Riyadh Arshi Parashar and Harshit Sosan Lakra	52

Deputy Editor (Lead on this issue): Ian Fookes (PhD) (CELTA), Lecturer in the School of Cultures, Languages and Linguistics, University of Auckland, New Zealand.

Editor-in-Chief: Kurt Seemann (PhD, BSc.DipEd(Hons) UNSW), Grad. Cert. (Management Competence) AIM-Deakin University, ACM), Adj. Professor. Swinburne University of Technology (2021-2024), Assoc. Professor. Federation University (2021+), Australia.
